【KAMINARIMON GATE】

This is the main gate of Sensouji Temple.

According to Sensouji-shi (History of Sensouji Temple), it was built as the main gate of Sensouji Temple by Kimimasa Taira in Komagata in 942, and rebuilt in 1635, but burned down in 1639.

【SENSOUJI Temple】

Sensouji Temple was built to enshrine a statue of the Kannon that was discovered in the Miyato River.

The temple prospered and declined over the years until it became directly affiliated with Hieizan Enryakuji, the head temple of the Tendai sect of Buddhism. (http://www.asakusa-umai.ne.jp/e_asakusa/matsuri/matsuri-02_e.html)
